

Old Bibbenluke Inn

A garden for all seasons – a clever mixture of hardy and rare perennials and trees. Pam Scott has continued to extend and develop the exotic and native borders behind the house. Her keen eye for design has superimposed a gentle discipline without losing the soft informality.

Bibbenluke Lodge

A garden of surprises – glorious colour, with massed plantings of perennials, shrubs and trees surrounding the art deco inspired house. Award winning artist Lucy Culliton's garden design is unusual and unexpected. Riotous dahlias are especially eye catching as they vie for space with massed autumn flowers. Rescued animals and birds abound, making a visit an unforgettable experience.

Gourock

A garden with glorious views – this beautifully sited house nestles into the landscape, and relaxed plantings of hardy perennials meander through spacious lawns. Stone walls blend into the landscape, and mature trees tower above. Sue and Peter Martin-Smith have planned a garden to relax in and enjoy, while not being a burden.
